Last Reviewed - 12/02/18

The Division recognises the principles of fair practice in its selection of suppliers of goods and services.

The Division further recognizes that conducting business with employees of the Division may involve, or may be perceived as involving, a conflict of interest situation or unfair advantage.

All incidences of employees and/or employees' spouses selling goods and/or services to the Division with a value of $2,000.00 or greater per like item must be referred to the Board for review prior to any commitment by the Division or its representatives to purchase from, or contract with, an employee and/or employees' spouse for any and all goods and/or services.

All incidences of employees and/or employees' spouses selling goods and/or services to the Division with a value of less than $2,000.00 per like item must be reported to the Board at the earliest opportunity following the transaction.
