In all procurement activities, agents of the Board will:

- consider first the interests of the School Division, its students, and the betterment of its programs
- consider the quality of the different materials available for purchase
- endeavour to obtain the greatest value for each dollar expended
- give all responsible bidders equal consideration and assurance of unbiased judgement in determining whether their product meets the specifications and the educational needs of the Division
- discourage the offer of, and decline, gifts which in any way might be intended to, or appear to be intended to, influence the purchase of goods or services
- accord a prompt and courteous reception to all vendors, insofar as conditions permit
