The Fort La Bosse School Division believes that education is a shared responsibility. Therefore, community and business involvement in education, which impact positively and directly on student learning, is welcomed. The establishment of close relationships with both community-based and more distant organisations, businesses, and industries, as well as other educational institutions, enhances public education by uniting the Division and the larger community in mutually beneficial educational and business partnerships.

In this regard, the Board recognises its responsibility:

- to ensure the integrity of its educational programs.
- to maximise its financial, potential, and facilities development.
- to expose the staff and students to more than one point of view.
- to enhance its educational offerings and developmental opportunities for the students and the Division, whenever and wherever feasible.

Within this framework, the Board appreciates that a rich diversity of mutually beneficial skills, resources, and opportunities for outside involvement with the Fort La Bosse School Division is present within the community and beyond our boundaries.

Therefore, pilot projects, joint ventures and donations that are of mutual benefit to the Division and the community will be both welcomed and accepted, subject to the procedures and regulations of this policy.
